Dolphian, French Content Security Software Company Announces Opening of Asia Pacific Subsidiary

Digital content filtering software company Dolphian SA, a leader in real-time content filtering and monitoring software for Internet and Mobile operators and OEM integrators announced today the opening of its Asia Pacific subsidiary, Dolphian Asia Ltd, headquartered in Hong Kong.

A partnership between Paris-based Dolphian SA and multi-national Hong Kong-based Jenotel, fully owned by Chiap Hua Group, Dolphian Asia Ltd will provide Dolphian technology and services to customers in South East Asia.

Dolphian develops software for real-time internet content analysis. Dolphian's unique multi-protocol filtering technology addresses Internet flows as well as mobile and other applications that require high efficiency and predictability. Since its creation, Dolphian licenses its products to original equipment manufacturers and operators globally. Typical applications are e-mail filtering, including compliance and junk mail filtering, Web content filtering, Instant Messaging control, SMS,...

Specially developed for integration in high throughput devices and servers, Dolphian engines provide unparalleled performance in terms of speed, scalability, predictability and capture rate, already enabling implementation in military-grade equipment.

Dolphian engines have been tested and implemented in Viet Nam where they are notably used for e-mail content filtering and junk mail eradication at the ISP level.

Paris-based Dolphian said after several successful pilot projects managed from Paris with large customers in Asia, the new structure will accelerate Dolphian's business development in the region and provide the best local service, notably in countries where Dolphian already has partners, such as Viet Nam and Hong Kong.

Dolphian SA was founded in 2001 by Chief Executive Gabriel Gross, who was a major contributor during the Internet's early days in Europe. He worked on research programs for the European Commission and is a member of the French government's anti-spam task force.

Dolphian Asia Ltd is headed by Lenard Tan, a renowned businessman and government advisor, who has among other responsibilities been a Managing Director of Ernst & Young ICL and multi-countries Managing Partner of Ernst & Young from Hong Kong base.
